New comedy film FUXK D3M KIDZ!! to be released on all major streaming platforms in summer 2023

Hilarious comedy details the trials and tribulations of being a parent in the 21st century

March 2023 – Tra Par Production Studio has officially announced its all-new comedy, FUXK D3M KIDZ!! will be released on all major streaming platforms in the summer of 2023. The highly anticipated comedy, written and directed by Tracey Parson, explores the struggles parents experience in the 21st century. The film’s relatable storyline about the chaos of parenthood will have viewers rolling in laughter and wiping away tears.

Starring comedian Chris Kennedy (Never Heard, I Got the Hook Up 2), FUXK D3M KIDZ!! is about a group of parents who finally give themselves a break from the non-stop daily grind of being moms and dads. The group creates a day dedicated to themselves, dubbed Fuxk Dem Kidz Day. The comedy explores the challenges of being a parent along with the pressures and criticisms created by individuals without kids.

In addition to starring Kennedy, FUXK D3M KIDZ!! features Jai Lashe, R&B singer Nyasia Chanel, Filipino R&B singer E-Liz, Francisco Joseph, April McBride, Comedian Carlos “HaHa” Davis and legendary actor Clifton Powell (Rush Hour, Next Friday).

FUXK D3M KIDZ!! is Parson’s directorial debut. She aimed to create a film all parents can relate to. Parson paid attention to every detail to ensure FUXK D3M KIDZ!! had humor, love, and a message of empowerment to parents everywhere. In addition, some of the scenes from the film come directly from her own experiences.

Parson previously worked on films, including Broken Trust and Nobody’s Son, and is a best-selling author and entrepreneur. FUXK D3M KIDZ!! took Parson in a new direction, as she was able to put her heart and soul into a project like never before.

FUXK D3M KIDZ!! will be released on all major streaming platforms in the summer of 2023. The highly anticipated film will be one of the blockbusters of the summer for Netflix, Amazon Prime Video, and other streaming services courtesy of its relatable storyline and humor.

Tra Par Entertainment's film FUXK D3M KIDZ!! is sponsored by Luc Belaire Sovereign Brands. The company produces a range of sparkling wines from France's historic winemaking regions.
